The Political Pot

Walter R. Faries, Bala-Cynwyd attorney, will back Lambert Cadwalader, Villanova, for assemblyman. In a statement issued this week Mr. Faries wrote:

". . . I have decided not to become a candidate for the General Assembly in the First Legislative District. . . . The support of my friends is requested for Lambert Cadwalader."

Among others hammering away at the New Deal this week were L. Rodman Page, of Bryn Mawr, vice-commander of the Crusaders of Pennsylvania, and State Senator Theodore Lane Bean, of Norristown.

Said Mr. Page: The New Deal is "a system of regimentation which was not only new, but entirely un-American."

Said Senator Bean, as to what will be found when the Joint Legislative Relief Investigating Committee files its report with the Pennsylvania General Assembly regarding the manner in which unemployment assistance is administered in the State: "An open scandal."

Congressman J. William Ditter, Ambler, will be opposed by H. Eugene Gardner, Glenside attorney and Townsend Plan advocate, for the Republican nomination for Representative. Four men seek the Democratic nomination: George H. Bartholomew, Pottstown, Lineaweaver faction choice; John J. Ferry, Norristown; Thomas S. Reidenouer, Pottstown, O'Neill organization selection, and John G. Keyser, 3d, Ambler, independent.

County Quarantine on Dogs March 23

Cynwyd Woman Bitten by Chow; Family Chased by Mad Pet

PRECAUTIONS ISSUED

A State quarantine on dogs, probably for 100 days, will be in effect in Montgomery County, beginning March 23, it was announced this week by the Department of Agriculture. A local quarantine already is in force in Lower Merion Township and Narberth.

Cases of rabies have been reported in Lower Merion and also in Haverford and Radnor Townships, but thus far not in Narberth.

The dog owned by Richard H. Tilburn, Jr., Conshohocken State road, Cynwyd, was suffering from rabies, according to the report received by Dr. George W. Grim, health officer. This dog, a young shepherd, went wild and snapped at Mrs. Tilburn, her daughter, Helen, 3, and her mother, Mrs. Mary Zengerl. The dog was shot by acting Dog Warden John McGrory.

Less serious but more painful was the experience of Mrs. Martin H. Bury, of Bryn Mawr avenue, Bala-Cynwyd. Mrs. Bury, who is the wife of a well-known Philadelphia and Ardmore automobile agencies' owner, stepped on her pet chow's foot. The foot was sore from being vaccinated against rabies, and the dog, a valuable show prize winner, sprang at her throat which was gashed, and clawed her body. Her maid, Bertha Hutchinson, screamed for help, and nearby WPA workers came to the rescue, George Matthews, of Holland avenue, Ardmore, making the chow retreat, while Samuel M. Young, of Reese avenue, Bryn Mawr, rendered first aid.

At Bryn Mawr Hospital, where Mrs. Bury is reported in fine condition, she declared the dog's action was caused by pain and temper rather than any disease. At St. Davids, Dr. George W. Huggler, veterinarian, was inclined to agree with her, but will await developments.

In Narberth this week, Dr. George A. Solan, president of the borough Board of Health, issued "Regulations for Handling Dogs Suspected of Rabies or Any Dog whcih has bitten a Person." Copies of the regulations may be obtained at the borough office in Elm Hall, Forest avenue.

"Chonita" Will Be Given Thursday At Narberth School. Play Was Tues.

Our spring operetta will be presented March 19 and 20 at 8.15 o'clock in the school auditorium. It is a gypsy operetta entitled "Chonita." The scene is laid in Hungary in 1880. The music is based upon the themes of Frany Liszt. The book and lyrics are by Marion Wakeman and the music was arranged by Ira B. Wilson. The tickets are 35 cents each.

Characters are as follows: Chonita, Norma Bailey; Daya, Chonita's nurse, Dorothy Hammer; Stephen, Jack Miller; Murdo, Chonita's father, Howard Kairer; Conrad, Bill McLaughlin; Baron Stanescu, Bill Haywood; Baroness Stanescu, Nancy Simpson; Emil, a servant, Bill Duncan.

Members of the seventh and eighth grades will compose the chorus. There are six dancing gypsy girls: Peggy Coholan, Jane King, Anita Goodrich, Helen Roesler, Lois Mansfield and Louise Johnston.

In the museum case this last week have been articles on the World War. The next exhibit will be foreign dolls. If anyone having interesting articles would call the school we would be glad to get them.

The week before last in assembly period we were entertained by the D. A. R. The next week we had a play given by Miss Hoover's eighth grade girls. Last week the Girl Scouts presented a program showing their ac-

Former Narberth Thespians Making Good on Coast

The fame of the Narberth Players has been carried across the continent by two former members of the local group. They are Mr. and Mrs. B. Winston Barrett, who moved last year to Bakersfield, Cal. Mrs. Barrett was the former Ethel Voight, of Montgomery avenue, Narberth.

In an interesting letter to Our Town Mr. Barrett tells of the success of "Merrily We Roll Along," produced by the Bakersfield Community Theatre, in which both the former Narberth residents had minor parts. Mrs. Barrett had appeared in a previous production in December.

"The Theatre," writes Mr. Barrett, "boasts a large organization, with paid directors, professional stage hands, makeup artists and the like. They have staged an utterly finished, practically professional production with each effort and stand very high in community esteem."

Mission at St. Margaret's

The two-week mission at St. Margaret's Church, Narberth, will continue each evening at eight o'clock to this Sunday, inclusive.

During the first week the mission was for women, while this week about 600 men are attending each service.

The services are in charge of the Rev. A. L. Doran and the Rev. Edward Molloy, of the Redemptorist Order.

Boro Taxes Due Tomorrow

Saturday is the final day for payment of the last installment of borough and school taxes in Narberth, to escape an added five per cent penalty. Payment may be made to Tax Collector Edwin P. Dold, or his Deputy, Mrs. Ruth W. Grace, at Elm Hall from 9 to 4 today and from 9 to 12 Saturday morning.

A fire of unknown origin caused damage estimated at $300 to the recreation room of the residence of Evan H. Street, of Kenilworth road, Merion, on Tuesday. Before the Narberth department could arrive, Mrs. Street had ended the blaze with a patent extinguisher.

Narberth Groups Will Study Co-op. Movement, Betram Fowler Coming

On six successive Monday evenings in several homes in Narberth groups will meet to study the Co-operative Movement. These homes are as follows:

Group 1—Mrs. Thaddeus Bolton, 231 Wayne avenue.

Group 2—The Misses Justice, 1104 Montgomery avenue.

Group 3—Mrs. Corwin Perisho, 113 Chestnut avenue.

Group 4—Mrs. E. A. E. Palmquist, 37 Narbrook Park.

Group 5—Mrs. Fielding Howe, 220 Lantwyn lane.

While the co-operative idea in economics is relatively new in the eastern part of the United States, it dates back to 1844 in England, when twenty-eight poor weavers banded themselves together to buy and sell on the co-operative basis.

Bertram Fowler, of New York, author of "The Co-operative Movement in the United States," will address a mass-meeting in Narberth, the place to be announced.

Those who are interested in these studies are invited to attend the group meeting in their neighborhood.

Impromptu Comedy is Given by Players

Wilde Play, Singer Also on Meeting Program, Well Received

MILNE DRAMA MARCH 27

Percival Wilde's "Lot's Wife," was presented Tuesday at the Narberth Players' meeting. It was coached by Faith Farmer and Mrs. Ann Darville was in charge of properties. The prologue was read by Blanche Hongler and the cast was as follows: Peter Lot, E. C. Batchelor; Mrs. Lot, Ruth Rollins; Lottie Lot, Peggy Bailey, and Katie Lot, Grace Werner. The scene which took place on a road leading from Sodom, was highly amusing.

Robert Greenwood, soloist of St. George's Church, Philadelphia, sang two numbers, "The Blind Ploughman," by Clark; and "Poor Man's Garden," by Russell. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Roy Greenwood.

In conclusion an impromptu play was given by several members. Mrs. Phillip A. Pitcher, chairman of the Entertainment Committee and who was in charge of the program, gave them a situation to act. They had five minutes to consult each other. The scene given was the anteroom of a hospital and the cast was as follows: The doctor, Roland Fleer; an Italian expectant father, William H. Muller; deaf man, Elmer Hackman; a young expectant father, John Snyder, and the nurses, Josephine Baker and Dorothy Speck. The result proved to be high comedy and each part was extremely well-done.

A brief business meeting preceded the program when plans were discussed for the next play which will be produced March 27 and 26. Now in rehearsal, it is a mystery drama, "The Perfect Alibi," by A. A. Milne. It is being coached by Mrs. Martha

Boro Businessmen Revive Luncheons

Will Get Together Mondays; New Signs and Improvements Sought

PLAN COMMERCE SURVEY

Revival of the Monday luncheons, a membership campaign, better identification of Narberth as a town and of its streets, and a survey of the Main Line for service needs, were the chief topic discussed by the Narberth Business Council at its monthly meeting Monday night at the Arcadia Restaurant.

It was definitely decided to meet each Monday at one o'clock at the Arcadia with the desire of popularizing an exchange of ideas for bettering business.

A campaign will be started at once by the membership committee to canvass every businessman to become a member of the Council.

Illuminated signs will be sought for placing at the borough limits with the name "Narberth" prominently displayed. Manuel Salasin is chairman of the committee in charge and will get in touch with the Keystone Automobile Club concerning these signs.

The need of street signs facing each way at intersections was also discussed and Joseph Adelizzi, president, was named chairman of the group which will ask borough council to have this accomplished.

A committee, also headed by Mr. Salasin, will undertake soon a plan to have a survey made of the service requirements of Main Line households, to include such work as renovations, interior decorating, landscaping, etc.

The Council extended a vote of thanks to the Narberth Theatre management for the publicity given the borough through the recent amateur broadcasts.

Needlework Guild Holds Party to Raise Funds

A plan for obtaining money donations for the Narberth Branch of the Needlework Guild of America was innovated by directors, Mrs. Robert L. Beatty, Mrs. Clifford Bates and Mrs. Arthur G. Follette, with a party given at the home of Mrs. Follette, on Wayne avenue, last Friday evening.

Each one of the 24 guests, upon arriving, received a new name for the evening—Jiggs and Maggie, Mickey Mouse and Minnie Mouse, Uncle Walt and Auntie Blossom, Hairbreadth Harry and Belinda, and others.

Following dinner games were selected, including Bagatelle, Sorry, Scavenger, Fire Chief and Anagrams.

C. H. Nold, of Wynnedale avenue (Amos Jones), was acclaimed victor. His was the unique record of having won every game he played during the evening. In recognition of his prowess the hostess presented him with the blue and gold badge of the Needlework Guild. Mrs. Adam Wilson, of Wayne avenue (Min), second best, received a similar badge of white and gold.

A free-will offering of $14.25 was turned in to the local Needlework Guild treasury for the purchase of material for garments.

Narberth Cancels One of 3 Street Projects

Windsor Avenue Resurfacing Deemed Inadvisable by Council

NEW TRUCK PURCHASED

The combination of a hard winter, an increase of Narberth's proportionate costs, and borough economy will prevent the contemplated resurfacing of Windsor avenue from Essex to Iona avenues.

Narberth Council on Monday decided against the project because county aid appropriations had been decreased from 75% to 70%, which increased the borough's share for three highway applications from $6,175 to $7,410. Also the cost for removal of ice and snow this year has cost the borough $463 whereas only $150 had been appropriated for that purpose.

Robert F. Wood, chairman of the Highway Committee, recommended the withdrawal of the Windsor avenue resurfacing application, lest council exceed its budget for this work.

Applications for county aid are still filed for the new road construction on Conway avenue from Price to Sabine, and the resurfacing of Essex avenue from Haverford to Montgomery. The total cost of these two projects is $18,700 of which the borough's share would amount to $5,610.

Of the total expenditure of the Highway Department for February only $4.00 was for cinders, while $1,058.55 was the cost of labor including that of several extra workmen.

Council accepted the bid of the Autocar Company for a three and one-half ton dump truck to cost $3,498.60 net. It also approved the Property Committee's recommendation that a fire hazard, caused by an overloaded electric line, at the Narberth Community Building, be remedied.

Cynwyd Dentist Speaks on Care of Children's Teeth

The need for dental care in young children, beginning at the age of two, was emphasized Tuesday by Dr. Richard C. Mears, Bala-Cynwyd dentist, speaking before the local Rotary Club.

"Proper care of the deciduous, or first teeth, is essential to preserve the correct use of the jaw and mouth muscles, and to inculcate a habit of dental care," Dr. Mears said.

The speaker showed examples of some pioneer work he has been doing in replacement of first teeth. By the use of plates, the full complement of teeth may be maintained in children, thus aiding mastication and preserving the shape of the jaws.

Girl Scouts' Anniversary

Thousands of parties all through the country marked the Girl Scout birthday yesterday when the 383,000 members of that organization celebrated their twenty-fourth anniversary. Ever since Juliette Low, of Savannah, Ga., invited eleven girls to tea one spring afternoon in 1912 and thus started the first troop, keeping open house for their friends has been a Girl Scout tradition.

Being home girls at heart, the Girl Scouts' favorite role is that of hostess, and they know well how to play it. During 1935 alone, 68,000 of them qualified as cooks and canners, and 12,452 proved their ability to plan and prepare parties. For, despite their well-founded reputation as expert campers and hikers — 16,570 proved their prowess outdoors in 1935 — the Girl Scouts find plenty of time to perfect themselves in the arts of singing, dancing, and dramatics. A total of 15,496 won badges for proficiency in such subjects during 1935.

Troop 125

The meeting was opened by a flag ceremony. The announcements made were concerning the collection of egg masses and Court of Awards. The leader then gave a very brief resume of Juliette Lowe and the founding of Girl Scouts in keeping with the twenty-fourth birthday of the organization, which is being celebrated March 12 to 18. After Patrol Corners the scouts played a game of hoptoad, then they went about their various activities. Mary McCafferty passed her tenderfoot test and is ready for her investiture. To bring the meeting to a close they played a song dance, "Promenade the Hall," and had their good-night circle.

Troop 8

The meeting last Tuesday opened informally with a discussion of the "Scout's Own Program" to be held in Ardmore the latter part of April.

Seven girls enrolled in Troop 8, and after the new members had been assigned to patrols each group held its meeting and laid plans for the next meeting. A supper hike was planned for the near future.

This year's registration fee was collected. All those who have not registered are asked to do so by Saturday at the latest.

Most of the evening was taken up in games to get acquainted with the new members and races in which they learned the fundamentals of the Tenderfoot Test.

A good-night circle and the singing of "Taps" brought an end to a lively evening.

Local Movies

"Strike Me Pink" is Current Narberth Film

"Strike Me Pink" is at Narberth this Thursday, Friday and Saturday —with Eddie Cantor, Parkyakarkus, Ethel Merman and lots of pretty girls, beautiful dance ensembles and tuneful songs.

Jean Harlow and Spencer Tracy make an exciting team in "Riff Raff," coming Monday and Tuesday. They're aided by Una Merkel and Joseph Calleia in a convincingly realistic story of the waterfront in which the arrogance of the best tuna fisherman on the "front" brings near tragedy to those he loves.

"Music is Magic" comes next Wednesday, Narberth's gift night—with songstress Alice Faye, Bebe Daniels and the tumbling comedians, Mitchell and Durant.

For three days to conclude the week, "Professional Soldier" will charm young and old. It's the story of a hard-boiled soldier of fortune—Victor McLaglen—and the boy king he kidnaps—played by Freddie Bartholemew—who in turn captures his heart. Grade A entertainment.

"Rose of Rancho," "Last of Pagans" at Egyptian

"Rose of the Rancho," a charming and spirited musical romance with the California of 1852 as its setting, is now at the Egyptian, marking the debut of Gladys Swarthout, Metropolitan star, in the movies. Her voice is notably lovely and her personality is one of charm and beauty. Exceptionally fine photography and direction mark this picture, kept cleverly in balance by the comedy of Willie Howard. John Boles and Charles Bickford are in the cast.

"Alice in Wonderland" is the Main Line Junior Cinema Alliance offering for young children at the special 10.30 A. M. matinee this Saturday.

"Last of the Pagans," next Monday and Tuesday, is an interesting vivid picture whose setting is a Polynesian Island. The well-told story gives the unique native tongue for dialogue, with English translation where necessary. The beautiful scenery is well photographed. The swimming and natural grace of the natives is shown and a delightful romance with its dramatic moments holds interest for young and old.

"King of Burlesque," next Wednesday and Bank Night Thursday, brings Warner Baxter, Jack Oakie, Alice Faye and a beautiful chorus in a musical comedy of outstanding charm, recommended for good entertainment.

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy are due the end of next week in "Rose Marie," Rudolf Friml's musical comedy translated to the screen with all its musical charm and added scenic beauty.

IT'S TRUE! By Wiley Padan

IT'S TRUE that "Last of the Pagans"—at the Egyptian Theatre next Monday and Tuesday—was filmed on a forgotten coral island in the South Seas near Tahiti, says Wiley Padan. It is based on "Typee," a novel by Herman Melville, author of "Moby Dick."

The City Under the Sea

Long, long ago the waters of the sea washed over the whole territory which is now the site of Philadelphia and its suburbs. This ancient sea retreated before men lived on the earth. We know that it engulfed this area through the telltale marks left on the land by the waters.

Limestone is one of these marks . . . for limestone is an accumulation of tiny skeletons and shells of prehistoric marine life. It was deposited when our land formed the ocean bed, and placed in its present position when the warping and folding of the earth's crust raised our land above water.

A great limestone belt, created in this manner, extends southwesterly from Willow Grove, through Conshohocken and down the Chester valley. This lime has many uses . . . as plaster . . . as fertilizer . . . and in industry. But lime must be carefully avoided in a public water supply.

When water takes up lime in solution, it becomes hard. And hard water is not suitable for washing or bathing because of the difficulty one has in making a lather from soap . . . also hard water clogs pipes . . . and makes scales in boilers.

The water you get comes from carefully selected streams that are lime free. When you use Springfield Water, you use soft water.

DISTRICT 1 P. I. A. A. (Semifinals)
Lower Merion, 26; Conshohocken, 22
Morrisville, 24; Radnor, 16

Wicht's Racket is well under way now, but a glance over the crowd at Villanova's Field House Tuesday night convinces us that a great many people like it.

The suburban planners slipped a cog when they went in for the double header. Lower Merion and Conshohocken would have completely filled the house without the aid of outsiders. Radnor and Morrisville, taking part in the P. I. A. A. playoffs for the first time would have easily filled the Lower Merion gymnasium, thus affording comfort to hundreds of fans and additional sheckels for the league to buy Baby Bonds.

Spectators crowded every conceivable square inch of space in the big gymnasium long before the games got under way. Hundreds of followers came with the Morrisville team from the banks of the Delaware, while Wayne matched them man for man. There was plenty of noise for all four teams, but somehow I got the impression that the Conshohocken noise was much the loudest. There must have been a million people who crossed the Schuylkill that night, and every one of them cheered when Whitey Mellor got his hands on the ball. That, of course, kept them in a continual state of uproar, for Whitey had hold of the ball for at least thirty out of the thirty-two minutes of play. The sharpshooter of the Conshohocken Clan only got set for one shot during the entire game. That one came from the corner and was his first field goal. The rest of the night he was shooting on the run, but he was dangerous every second of the time he was in the game, and he was very much in the game for the entire thirty-two minutes.

Lower Merion had the game won soon after the last quarter got under way. Some fancy passing by Lentz and Bassett gave Ramsey two field goals and Beck one. This gave the Maroon a lead of 12 points, but at this juncture the boys relaxed and got carless. Smith and Lentz both took shots when they should have been holding the ball and the result was banishment for Lentz on four personal fouls and Conshy cashed in with a couple of field goals. Young Watson got careless and allowed Long take the ball away from him and before you could say "Bill Humes" the lads from the suburbs of Norristown were hammering at a tie score. At about this time Dick Whitney reached high for the ball and held it up out of the reach of the thundering herd until the gun barked 10.45 P. M. and the game was over.

* * *

The Aces will meet Morrisville tonight, we presume at Villanova, as that is the scene of most of the playoff games. The Morrisville coach uncovered some nice shots in his two forwards. They dropped them in consistently from well out, and those that missed seemed to be in and out of the basket. What they can do to a man-to-man defense is not known. They play a zone defense, themselves, and while it will slow up the Maroon scoring, Bill Anderson should not have much trouble working the ball in for enough points to win.

Lower Merion should win the Eastern Regional crown which means a trip to Pittsburgh or some point west. That's not so bold a statement, really, but I have my fingers crossed.
